CRITERIA FOR DETERMINING THE ORDER OF CANDIDATES

The criteria for determining the order of candidates for enrollment in the first year of undergraduate studies consist of the overall academic achievement in secondary education and the result achieved in the entrance exam (test on general knowledge):

1. The order of candidates for enrollment in the first year is determined based on the overall academic performance achieved in secondary education and the results attained in the entrance examination or aptitude test. A candidate for enrollment in a study program can achieve a maximum of 100 points, based on their overall academic performance in secondary school and their performance in the entrance examination. The overall academic performance in secondary school is calculated by adding together the average grades obtained in each grade level of high school, multiplied by 2. Based on this criterion, a candidate can obtain a minimum of 16 and a maximum of 40 points. The overall academic performance in secondary school is calculated by rounding to two decimal places.
2. The result achieved on the entrance exam is evaluated from 0 to 60 points. A candidate passes the admission test (Test for checking knowledge, general abilities, and aptitudes for the field of information technologies; for other study programs, Test of general knowledge) if they score a minimum of 31 points.
The test contains 30 questions. Each question is valued at two points.
3. If two or more candidates have the same number of points obtained based on the above criteria, priority will be given to the candidate with a higher number of points obtained based on overall academic performance in school.

Criteria for determining the order of candidates for enrollment in master's academic studies include the following: Average grade obtained during previous studies and duration of studying.

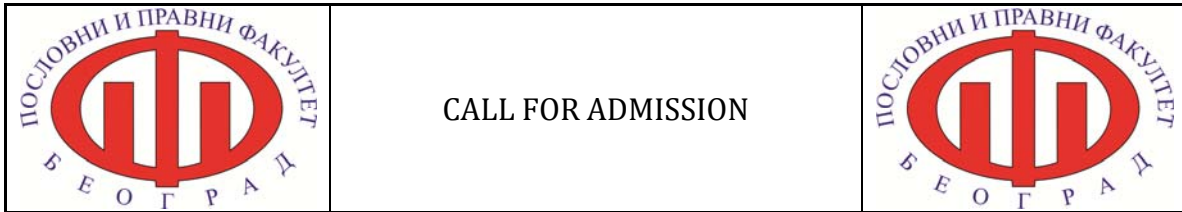

The right to enroll in master's academic studies is granted to individuals who have successfully completed four-year undergraduate academic studies. The order of candidates for admission in the master's academic study is determined based on the overall average grade and the duration of study in their previous academic endeavors.

The number of points is acquired as the sum of the following elements:

1. The tenfold average grade from the undergraduate academic studies (The maximum average grade is 10. The maximum number of points based on achievement is up to 100).
2. The total number of points is adjusted based on the duration of study, subtracting 0.25 points for each month of study beyond the prescribed deadline for completion of studies, or

Average grade obtained during previous studies:

2. The total number of points is adjusted based on the duration of study, subtracting 0.25 points for each month of study beyond the prescribed deadline for completion of studies, or adding 0.25 points for each month of study completed below the prescribed deadline. For study programs with 300 ECTS credits, the prescribed deadline for completion of studies is five years.
